

What to Expect as a DOROT Summer College Intern in the Intergenerational Program Engagement Department

DOROT's Summer College Internship Program offers the opportunity for group and individual learning as part of an intern cohort and through specific departmental assignments. One of these assignments is in the Intergenerational Program Engagement Department (IPE).

All interns will...

- Participate in group workshops and events with other interns.
- Assist the Marketing and Communications Department at least once during the summer.
- Be assigned at least one older adult for weekly calls throughout their internship to build connections and foster friendships.
- Spend time on the phone engaging with older adults.

Four Summer College Interns are an integral part of the IPE team which plans, organizes, and facilitates the Jewish Summer Teen Internship Programs. These interns will be mentored to provide impactful, high-quality intergenerational experiences for teens and older adults. IPE College Interns are Jewish role models for the teen interns. They help coordinate daily internship scheduling, outreach to older adults to register their participation as well as plan, organize and co-facilitate programming.

Two of the College Interns will work with our partner agency, the Shorefront Y, in Brooklyn, which serves many Russian speaking older adults. Oral fluency in Russian is required for these two positions.
